Art Unit: 1722

1. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103The following is a quotation of 35

U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Udagawa '346 B2.

Udagawa "346 B2 teaches a similar Group III-V and Boron Phosphide-based semiconductor light-emitting device, comprising a bottom electrode (107), a substrate (101), a buffer layer (102), a first boron-phosphide semiconductor layer (103), a light-emitting layer (104), a second boron-phosphide semiconductor layer (105), a projection region (109), upper electrode (106b), and lower electrode (106a).

The difference being that the arrangement of the layers varies from that of the instant invention. However, in unobvious results, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify and optimize the different layer in order to ensure proper orientation. The motivation being that the operation current can be caused to flow preferentially to a region of a device from which light is advantageously emitted, and thus the light-emitting device exhibits high emission intensity.

A reference is good not only for what it teaches by direct anticipation but also for what one of ordinary skill might reasonably infer from the teachings. In re Opprecht 12 USPQ 2d 1235, 1236 (CAFC 1989); In re Bode 193 USPQ 12; In re Lamberti 192 USPQ 278; In re Bozek 163 USPQ 545, 549 (CCPA 1969); In re Van Mater 144 USPQ 421; In re Jacoby 135 USPQ 317; In re LeGrice 133 USPQ 365; In re Preda 159 USPQ 342 (CCPA 1968).

Expected beneficial results are evidence of obviousness, just as unexpected beneficial results are evidence of unobviousness. In re Novak 16 USPQ 2d 2041 (Fed. Cir., BPAI 1989); In re Hoffman 194 USPQ 126 (CCPA 1977); In re Skoll 187 USPQ 481 (CCPA 1975); In re Skoner 186 USPQ 80 (CCPA 1975); In re

Garshon 152 USPQ 602 (CCPA 1967)

In addition, specific size and range of semiconductor layer as claimed in claims 13 and 21 are taken to be obvious since these are variables of art recognized importance which are subject to routine experimentation and optimization and discovery of an optimum value for a known process and changes in size or range are obvious. In Re Reven, 156 USPQ 679 (CCPA 1968), In re Rose, 105 USPQ (CCPA 1955), In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955). And, even if applicants' modification results in great improvement and utility over the prior art, it may still not be patentable if the modification was within the capabilities of one skilled in the art, In Re Sola 25 USPQ 433.
